

Marc Ozawa, PhD

SKILLS:

General – Russian and Eurasian politics and economics, international relations, strategic competition, NATO, EU, security and defense policy, energy security, hybrid/grey zone conflict, teaching and academic supervisions, presentations/public speaking, events (organization of conferences, seminars, and workshops), high level advising and consulting (strategic competition, international relations, energy and climate governance, European and Russian geopolitics)

Computer – MS Office (Word, Excel, PowerPoint, SharePoint); various web and publishing applications; Eviews; SPSS; Stata

Languages – Native speaker of English; fluent in French, German, and Russian; intermediate Japanese and Italian

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE:

George C. Marshall European Center for Security Studies, Garmisch, Germany
August 2024 to present

Associate Professor

- Research and publishing articles on security affairs concerning Russia, Europe, and Eurasia
- Lecturing on Russian foreign and security policies, energy security, and strategic competition
- Course planning and development
- Directing student group seminars
- Organizing conferences, seminars, and workshops
- Advising officials on security developments
- External outreach and representing the organization at events

NATO Defense College, Rome, Italy

September 2018-March 2024

Senior Researcher and Deputy Director

- Research and writing Policy Briefs and Research Papers on NATO's deterrence and defense posture, strategic competition (Eurasia, Indo-Pacific, and MENA regions), and NATO's Eastern and Northern flanks
- Managed academic and administrative staff as deputy director of the research department
- Participated in strategic management and planning of the college on behalf of research department
- Published articles and books with external journals and academic publishers
- Coeditor of the Policy Brief series
- Lectured on the geopolitics and strategic competition of Eastern Europe, Eurasia, the High North, the MENA region, and the Indo-Pacific
- Organized and chaired conferences, seminars, and workshops

- Represented the NATO Defense College at external conferences, events, and in the media
- Managing NATO Defense College participation, organization, and sponsorship of conferences, events, and publications
- Managing administrative staff supporting research and events activities
- Sat on hiring committees for recruiting research and administrative staff
- Drafted vacancy announcements for research and faculty positions
- Mentored junior staff
- Conducted outreach for the college
- Developed relationships with peers throughout NATO and with think tanks, universities, NGOs, and diplomatic representatives
- Advised NATO and government officials

University of Cambridge, Cambridge, United Kingdom

October 2016-present

Associated Researcher

- Researcher of international politics and energy security
- Coedited book as the lead editor published by Cambridge University Press

University of Cambridge, Energy Policy Forum, Cambridge, United Kingdom

2013-June 2016

Associate Director and Policy Research Associate

- Presented research projects and policy recommendations to policy makers, industry and academic members through individual meetings, conferences and digital media
- Conducted research on international negotiations strategies
- Conducted field research on high level commercial, policy and military staff including government ministers and executive board level representatives
- Presented research and participated in academic conferences
- Responsible for external relationship management (stakeholder management) and sponsorship fundraising with policy, industry and academic partners
- Delivered lectures on energy security and the geopolitics of energy for the 'Energy & Environment' concentration of the MBA program
- Project management for rollout of Strategic Research Initiative
- Prepared fundraising activities including meetings with prospective sponsors and funding applications (public and private) to support future research
- Managed, coordinated and moderated a multidisciplinary seminar series
- Coordinated and drafted joint articles and book proposals
- Managed support and faculty staff

University of Cambridge, Dept. of Politics and International Studies, Judge School of Business and Pembroke College (International Security and Intelligence Studies Programme), United Kingdom, 2013-2016

Supervisor – International Relations Theories, Security Studies, Geopolitics of Energy, and Intra-state Conflict

- Supervised undergraduate and master's level students in the following modules: International Relations Theories, Security Studies, Energy Security, Geopolitics of Energy, and Intrastate Conflict
- Developed curriculum for Security Studies modules
- Directed discussions for individual supervisions and group seminars

- Delivered lectures on Political Economy of Europe, Russia, Caspian Region and Central Asia
- Cochair of the masters module on the Geopolitics of Energy and Climate Politics

UK Parliament, House of Commons – London, United Kingdom, 2013

Specialist Adviser

- Advised Members of Parliament on gas market developments

Norwegian Institute for Defence Studies (IFS), Oslo, Norway, 2012

Guest Researcher and Grant Recipient

- Examined Norway's security and defense policies towards Russia
- Examined strategic competition in the High North
- Examined Nordic state relations with Russia
- Examined Norwegian trade relations and international infrastructure projects for the oil and gas sector as part of my PhD research project
- Conducted ethnographic field research study on the Oslo policy community
- Presented research and policy recommendations to Norwegian policy makers
- Wrote article on Norwegian security and infrastructure projects (published in the academic journal, Energy Research and Social Sciences)

Yale University, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, New Haven, USA, 2007

Teaching Fellow, Contemporary Middle East Politics

- Responsible for organizing and distributing course material, grading examinations and directing weekly seminars
- Supervised undergraduates papers

Yale Journal of International Affairs, New Haven, USA, 2007-2008

Senior Editor

- Responsible for editing, proofing, and thematic organization of semi-annual journal on international affairs
- Coordinated writers and managed relationships with distributors

IHS, Cambridge Energy Research Associates (IHS CERA), Cambridge, USA, 2004-2007

Energy Analyst – Global Gas and Power

- Responsible for modeling industrial, residential, and commercial demand for the natural gas and power markets including data aggregation and econometric analysis, website maintenance, and coordination of monthly gas market report
- Prepared briefs and ad hoc analysis for policy makers and industry clients
- Contributing writer to gas and power industry publications
- Analyzed North American pipeline and global LNG regasification infrastructure in addition to North American, European, and Eurasian energy markets
- Prepared and coordinated discussion groups for conferences
- Presented research at conferences
- Moderated discussion panels for workshops

Harvard Business School, Boston, USA, 2003-2004

Research Assistant

- Researched Russian political economy for case studies
- Assisted faculty with industry and political analysis through data aggregation and foreign media research

Craigslist.org, San Francisco, USA, 1999-2001

Director Community Development

- Responsible for online community development and launching of new websites both domestic and globally
- Devised communications strategy
- Project management for global rollout of social media websites
- Worked in conjunction with public relations staff to manage media relations
- Organized community events and fundraising engagements for charitable organizations
- Managed marketing staff

EDUCATION:

University of Cambridge, St. Catharine's College, Dept. of Politics & Intl. Studies (POLIS), Cambridge, UK, 2016

PhD in Politics and International Studies

Thesis title – "Trust and European-Russian Energy Relations: The Cases of German-Russian and British-Russian Co-operation in Oil and Natural Gas"

Supervised by Prof Jonathan Haslam FBA and Dr Geoffrey Edwards

University of Cambridge, St. Catharine's College, Dept. of Politics & Intl. Studies (POLIS), Cambridge, UK, 2011

MSt in International Relations, completed with First Class Honours

Yale University, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, New Haven, CT, USA, 2008
MA in European and Russian Studies

Thesis subject – "Russian Defense Industrial Policies: From Yeltsin to Putin"

Supervised by Prof William Odom

Lomonosov Moscow State University, Economics and Philology Depts., Moscow, Russia, 1996

(University exchange program)

Conducted language study and course work in economics, political science, and history

North Eastern Federal University, Dept. of International Studies, Yakutsk, Russia, 1997

(University exchange program)

Conducted course work in history and cultural studies

University of Alaska Fairbanks, Fairbanks, Alaska, USA, 1998

BA in Russian Studies with Political Economy concentration

Jesuit High School, Portland, Oregon, USA, 1992
High School Diploma

PUBLICATIONS:

Please see the attached publications list

TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

Senior Course (NATO Defense College) – Mentored students and lectured on Russian security and defense policy, NATO-Russia relations, strategic competition (in Eurasia, the Indo-Pacific, and MENA) and writing/research skills

Near Regional Cooperation Course (NATO Defense College) - Lectured on Russian security and defense policy, NATO-Russia relations, and strategic competition (in Eurasia, the Indo-Pacific, and MENA)

Russia Seminar (NATO Defense College, Senior Course) – Mentored students

China Seminar (NATO Defense College, Senior Course) – Mentored students

Russia Module (Baltic Defence College) – Lectured on Russian foreign policy

Kyiv International Week (NATO Defense College and Ukrainian National Defence University) – Multiple lectures on strategic competition in Russia's border regions

International Relations and Security Studies (U. of Cambridge, Dept. of Politics & International Studies) – This module is part of the master's and undergraduate concentration in politics. My responsibilities included directing seminars and individual supervisions for student research projects.

Energy Politics (U. of Cambridge, Dept. of Politics & Intl. Studies) – This module is part of the master's in international relations program. My responsibilities included lecturing on the energy politics of the EU and Russia, and directing seminars covering energy security and the geopolitics of oil and gas.

Resource Security (U. of Cambridge, Pembroke College International Security and Intelligence Programme) – This module was part of the summer program at Pembroke College. The students represented all levels including undergraduate, master's and PhD. My responsibilities included directing seminars, creating a bibliography for the course and individual supervisions for essays.

Intrastate Conflict (U. of Cambridge, Pembroke College International Security and Intelligence Programme) – This module was part of the summer program at Pembroke College. The students represented all levels including undergraduate, master's and PhD. My responsibilities included directing seminars, creating a bibliography for the course and individual supervisions for essays.

Political Economy of Energy and Climate Policy (U. of Cambridge, Judge Business School) – This was a lecture series I gave to MBA students with the ‘Energy & Environment’ concentration at the Judge Business School. The lectures integrated energy trade with an international politics theoretical framework. It was designed to introduce business economics students to international energy politics, a new subject for most of them.

Contemporary Politics of the Middle East (Yale University, Dept. of Political Science) – This module was for both undergraduate and graduate students. My responsibilities included individual supervisions and directing seminars complimenting the professor’s lectures.

HONOURS & AWARDS:

Cambridge Political Economy Society Trust, scholarship (2014)
To support PhD research project at the University of Cambridge.
Total award amount – approximately £11,000 (GBP)

Senior Research Grant (Norwegian Institute for Defence Studies) 2012-2013
To support PhD research project at the University of Cambridge.
Total award amount – approximately kr 84,000 (NOK) per annum

Madingley Thesis Prize (University of Cambridge)
Awarded in recognition of dissertations that receive a First Class Honours result.
Total award amount - £ 100 (GBP)

Foreign Language & Area Studies Fellowship (United States Dept. of Education) 2006-2008
This merit-based award contributed to graduate studies at Yale University.
Total award amount – approximately $ 48,000 (USD)

Yale Center for International Studies (Yale University) 2006-2008
This merit-based award contributed to graduate studies at Yale University.
Total award amount – approximately $ 16,000 (USD)

International & Area Studies Departmental Award 1994-1998.
This merit based award for university fees at the University of Alaska and study in Russia.
Total award amount – approximately $ 36,000 (USD)

OTHER PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES:

Foreign language lessons - Russian to maintain advanced level; Italian for improvement, currently at intermediate level

Serve on PhD committees

Serve as a peer reviewer for article submissions to the Cambridge Economics Working Paper Series, Energy Research and the Social Sciences, and Studia Politica

Serve as a grant evaluator for the EU Research Council and previously for the Research Council of Norway

VOLUNTEER ACTIVITIES:

Mentoring students and early career professionals

Caritas Mensa soup kitchen

Parish Council member and reader at St. Patrick's Church in Rome, Italy

Publications list for Marc Ozawa

Books and edited volumes

M. Ozawa et al., Ripple Effects: Strategic Competition in Central Asia after the Russia-Ukraine War, Research Paper No, NATO Defense College, (forthcoming)

M. Ozawa, Trust and European-Russian Energy Relations: Ensuring Energy Security, London, Palgrave Macmillan, 2023

M. Ozawa et al., War Changes Everything: Russia after Ukraine, Research Paper No 22, NATO Defense College, 2023

M. Ozawa and I. Iftimie, Russia's Energy Policy: Dependence, Networks and Special Relationships, Research Paper No 13, NATO Defense College, 2020

M. Ozawa ed., Russia's Emerging Global Ambitions, NATO Defense College, Research Paper No. 11, 2020

M. Ozawa et al., In Search of Good Energy Policy, Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 2019

M. Ozawa et al., The Alliance Five Years after Crimea: Implementing the Wales Summit Pledges, Research Paper No. 7, NATO Defense College, 2019

Articles and chapters

M. Ozawa et al., "Russia's Strategic Culture toward Ukraine and the Baltics: Implications for NATO", Problems of Post-Communism (under review)

M. Ozawa et al., "NATO's Deterrence and Defence Posture in the Baltics: Rebalancing Strategic Priorities to Counter Russian Hybrid Aggression", Defense and Security Analysis, forthcoming in January 2025

M. Ozawa, "Total, Global, Hybrid War", in War Changes Everything: Russia after Ukraine edited by M. Ozawa, Rome, Research Paper No., NATO Defense College, 2023

M. Ozawa, "Towards a deeper NATO-Japan cooperation", Policy Brief No 19, NATO Defense College, 2022

M. Ozawa, "Russia and NATO's Northern Flank since 2014", in Dominik Jankowski and Tomasz Stępniewski eds., NATO's Northern Flank in the Era of Strategic Competition, IES Policy Paper 4/2022, September 2022

M. Ozawa and I. Čančar, "Germany as a Bellwether for European Energy Security Post-Ukraine", New Eastern Europe, No 5, Sept-Oct 2022

M. Ozawa, "The Russia-Ukraine War and the European Energy Crisis", in War in Europe: preliminary lessons edited by T. Tardy, Rome, Research Paper No. 23, NATO Defense College, 2022

M. Ozawa, "Russia's 'Total Confrontation' on the Eastern Flank", Policy Brief No. 2, NATO Defense College, 2022

M. Ozawa, "Nato-Russia, è iniziata la fase di disgelo", Formiche, 13 January 2022

M. Ozawa, "Adapting NATO-Russia Dialogue", Policy Brief No. 12, NATO Defense College, 2021

M. Ozawa, "Adapting NATO to Grey Zone Challenges from Russia", in NATO 2030: New Technologies, New Conflicts, New Partnerships edited by T. Tardy, Research Paper No. 17, NATO Defense College, 2021

M. Ozawa, "Russia's Energy Relations with Turkey and Iran: Between Commercial Interests and Regional Competition", in Russia in NATO's South: Expansionist Strategy or Defensive Posture? edited by C. Berger and C. Salloum, Research Paper No. 16, NATO Defense College, 2021

M. Ozawa, "Biden's response to Russia", Baltic Rim Economies, 22 December 2020

M. Ozawa, "NATO and Russia in the Time of Corona: Countering Disinformation and Supporting Allies", in COVID-19: NATO in the Age of Pandemics edited by T. Tardy, Research Paper No 9, NATO Defense College, 2020

M. Ozawa, "Russia and China: 'Axis of Convenience' or 'Stable Strategic Partnership'?", Policy Brief No. 16, NATO Defense College, 2019

M. Ozawa et al., "Introduction to Good Energy Policy", in In Search of Good Energy Policy, Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 2019

M. Ozawa, "Response to Fukushima and German Energy Policy 2005-2015/2016", in In Search of Good Energy Policy, Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 2019

M. Ozawa and M. Pollitt, "Introduction to Multidisciplinary Approaches", in In Search of Good Energy Policy, Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 2019

M. Ozawa et al., "The Power of Siberia: A Eurasian Pipeline Policy 'Good' for Whom?", in In Search of Good Energy Policy, Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 2019

M. Ozawa et al., "Responses and Final Thoughts", in In Search of Good Energy Policy, Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 2019

M. Ozawa, "Energy Security in the Baltic Region: Between Markets and Politics", Policy Brief No. 19, NATO Defense College, 2019

M. Ozawa, "Trust and Norwegian-Russian Energy Relations", Journal of Energy Research in the Social Sciences, 16, 2016, pp.111-121.

Working papers and reports

M. Ozawa and I. Čančar, "Germany's War-induced Energiewende – a Crisis with Benefits", Europe's Edge Series, Center for European Policy Analysis (CEPA), 2022

M. Ozawa, "Trust and European-Russian Energy Relations: The case of natural gas partnerships", Cambridge Economics Working Paper Series, Cambridge, University of Cambridge, 2014

M. Ozawa, "Energy Trade between Europe and Russia will depend on trust", The Conversation, London, 2014

M. Ozawa, "The Unwritten Rules of German Energy – What Newcomers Need to Understand about the Market Environment and Business-government Relations", Expert Insights Series, Berlin, 2012

M. Ozawa, "Last Chance for Ukraine to Play the Pipeline Card – Gazprom Cuts Gas Deliveries to Europe, Again", Expert Insights Series, Berlin, 2012

M. Ozawa, "ExxonMobil in Russia: Act II – What ExxonMobil Can Learn from BP and E.ON Ruhrgas." Expert Insights Series, Berlin, 2011

M. Ozawa et al., Monthly Gas Review, Cambridge, IHS, (contributing author to regular monthly publications from 2004-2006)